

Steven S. Vineis

Steve has twenty-three years experience in the electronic, industrial, and electrical markets. His background includes various Senior Sales and Marketing positions with such international companies as Wieland Electric Inc., Acme Electric and Interroll Corporation. He has built and managed sales teams of manufacturer's representatives selling technically based components with an extensive background in the development of distribution programs at both the local and national level. He is the founder of Excalibur Technical Sales, Inc.